Trouble on the highway?

Have AAA or roadside service on your insurance plan? Have you waited hours for them to show up? For quicker response you may dial 511 on any cellphone and request the HERO UNIT for help on Metro interstates. The HERO unit is a free service paid from the gas tax in the metro area. They can change tires, give a gallon of gas or give you a ride to a safe place off of the interstate. The 511 line also has limited road information regarding traffic delays. Direct HERO # 404-635-8000.

HERO Duties

- Patrol the Atlanta-area freeways, Monday through Friday, from 5:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.
- Patrol same freeways on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 am to 9:30 pm
- Be on call to respond to incidents outside of the above hours.
- Initiate measures to reduce traffic congestion and delays
- Provide support to law enforcement, first-response and other emergency agencies
- Assist in clearing stalled vehicles from the travel lanes
- Help stranded motorists with minor mechanical problems including:
 - Change flat tires
 - Jump start weak batteries
 - Provide fuel, coolant, etc.
 - Provide road and travel information
 - Provide transportation to safer areas
 - Provide courtesy use of a telephone

The beautiful new stop signs and street signs in the neighborhood are property of the association. The homeowners association is paying for these signs from your yearly dues. Please do not attach signs, ribbons or notices from these signs. The paint is peeling from the tape put on the poles and will cause the poles to rust. A bulletin board is available for signs at the front entrance. Please be prompt in removing the signs. Another suggestion would be to use yard signs to post a lost pet. We can send out email alerts as well if you will contact Laura Lord, President or Andy McLean, web master to post the email to neighbors.

WEB WHAT?

Yes, Riverview has a website. Several years ago, Andy McLean worked with a web designer to create a website for Riverview that would help us distribute information and house documents for the association. Need to know a neighbors cell phone number or an emergency contact number while you are at work? The website allows you to look it up. Want to review the minutes from a meeting last year-they are available on the website. Would love suggestions for additions/changes to improve the website. Please let Andy know about them. Forgot your log in and password? Your original log in is set as your last name followed by your house number. ie., LORD4669 On the web site you can request that your password be sent to you if you have forgotten it. Visit at www.Riverview-hoa.com. Please update information in your profile as it changes.

Thanks to Tom Sharon for great holiday decorations in Riverview this year. Our stop sign wreaths will be needing new ribbon and bells this year-please let me know if you find ribbon or decorations on sale now that we could use in December to dress up the wreaths.

TRASH News- Hard to believe the trash gets so much news. I have tried to forward information to you as I have received it. If you want to stay in tune with all the trash news that I get, you can subscribe to the UPPCA news on their website or visit their website for the information. www.upcca.com

Want to get involved more in the neighborhood? As the new officers are inducted, new chairs for several committees will be open. As a committee chairperson you make suggestions, help in decision making and have a big input on decisions made by the executive committee. As current president, I am glad I am not alone in making the decisions and have the opportunity to listen to many perspectives on a topic. Please be willing to help out the executive committee-this is a great neighborhood that is run by neighbors and not a manager. Please let Lanny Vaughn know if you have an interest in being a committee chair.
